The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., D. D. S., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of remedies, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

IN THE SILVER PATH.

A Sad Incident of a Calm Night on a Great Ocean Pier.

There were a hundred of us at the extreme end of the great ocean pier, watching for the moon to rise from its cavern in the sea. The tide was going out, and the under tow could be felt as it pulled at the strong supports of the pier. Off in the west a dark bank of clouds was creeping up, and at intervals a flash of lightning showed the ragged edges of the clouds and turned the waves to blood red. The waves came rolling in from the great expanse to the east, each crested with froth and foam—each roaring a menace—each flinging itself on the beach in sullen fury.

There was a hush as we watched and listened. By and by a sweet voice suddenly broke into song. It was that dear old melody, "Sitting On My Dear Old Mother's Knee," and the singer was a girl not more than 18 years old. No one seemed to know her, but as her voice took up the melody and every word reached our ears, all bent forward with bated breath. There was a quaver, a sadness, a something in her voice which called for pity. As she sang the great white moon rose in her majesty out of the black waste of waters—up—up—up—inch by inch, and as the singer reached the last verse the silver rays settled upon her head and made her a crown of glory.

When she had finished she rose slowly up, and slowly walked forward to the low railing, and, looking out upon the silvery path across the waters, she sang the last verse again. Then, while the tears yet lingered in the ears of all, she sprang over the rail into the seething, swirling, waters twenty feet below. No man moved for a moment. Then all cried out in horror and rushed to the rail. She was floating out to sea, hands clasped as if in silent prayer, out in the silvery path which led to death and we were powerless. Never a shriek nor a cry nor struggle. We saw her as she was heaved up on the crest of a great wave and then she was gone forever.

Poor child. She had sinned but she had repented. Never a word but all hoped the dear old mother was waiting for her on the other shore and that God in his mercy would not judge her too harshly.

Prophylactic in Sickness.
"Typhoid Fever has broken out here again, but wherever Darby's Prophylactic Fluid has been freely used there has been no fever."—M. B. LANCASTER, F. M. Ed. Central Alabamian.
"The Fluid is not merely a deodorizer, but a disinfectant—a destroyer of the disease germs in an atmosphere which cannot be breathed without danger."—NEW YORK EVENING POST.

The Skeena Indians are described as of low stature and degraded morals. They are all heathens and sturdily refuse to embrace Christianity. They are wild and lawless, with no more notion of fairness than a wolf, whose character they exactly parallel, inasmuch as when they come to the store alone they are almost vexatiously meek and lowly, but when they collect in numbers, they are loud mouthed and menacing. Their face consists mainly of mouth and cheek bones, with small flat noses.

Ladies! Ayer's Hair Vigor is a superior and economical hair dressing. It has become an indispensable article for the toilet.

Benjamin Harrison, Republican candidate for the presidency, was born at North Bend, Hamilton county, Ohio, August 20, 1833. L. P. Morton, candidate for the vice-presidency, was born at Shoreham, Vt., in 1823. Grover Cleveland, the Democratic candidate, was born at Caldwell, Essex county, N. J., March 18, 1837; and Allen G. Thurman, candidate for the vice-presidency, was born at Lynchburg, Va., November 13, 1813.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla never before equaled its present daily record of marvelous cures.

The two murdered Moritz brothers were buried at Colfax. Peter had a family. Carl was single. Each brother was worth about $50,000.

The Finest of All Campaigns.

The Memphis Daily Avalanche, as a representative of other journals of similar opinion, congratulates the country that this is to be truly a reform campaign. It is to be a "campaign of reason." On the other hand, the public is advised through the medium of the Galveston Daily News that money is coming into the political camps with a rush that is absolutely unprecedented. "By the middle of September," says the News, "the grand old party" will have at least $10,000,000 in bank for campaign expenses," while Bill Scott and other staunch friends of the "man of destiny" will see to it that he lacks nothing to aid in his re-election."

The truth is that, in respect of both money and brains, the canvass is to be magnificent beyond comparison with the past. It will indeed be a feast of reason and a flow of gold. Nearly everybody will vote. The issue is clear and sharp enough for political old fogies of any age to suppress their indifference and vote for one candidate or the other. There may not be much fuss above ground, but the fires beneath will be fearfully hot and fierce.—N. Y. Sun.

In 1860 there was no tariff on salt, but it cost $3 a barrel, and the coopers who made the barrels earned 75 cents a day. Now with a tariff on salt of 12 cents on the hundred pounds, it is sold for 60 cents a barrel at the works, and the coopers who make the barrels earn $2.50 a day. There is a little tariff fact; but it is solid, and weighs more than any free trader can lift.
